English and American Mines.

There is a great difference between mines and mining in the United States and Great Britain. In the latter country mine explosions cause numerous deaths, while in the United States they cause but few. The aggregate in Great Britain during the ten years from 1856 to 1866 was 2,019. This does not include the loss of life from the recent unfortunate explosions in Yorkshire and Staffordshire. Over 600 lives were lost by these last. It is thought that the great hardships and dangers to the English miners, working in pits eight and nine hundred feet deep, and the liability of these explosions, will induce increased emigration on their part to this country. They have to work at low wages in England, and in some mines many of the operatives never come above ground. On account of their great depth, eighty and eighty-four degrees is the temperature at which it is said the work in certain parts of some English mines is now carried on, and at a higher temperature than this men cannot steadily labor.

There is nothing of this sort in connection with our American mines, the coal here being generally in the hills and high regions. Coal mining, therefore, is performed at much greater advantage in this country than in England. The mines pay better here also. In England only from three to five per cent. are the profits, and it is thought that much capital invested in coal mining there, will seek new fields of labor. Our coal and iron mines will thus, from natural causes, draw both laborers and capitalists from Europe. The skilled English laborers, when here, often become capitalists by reason of the advantages which they find and which their knowledge enables them to avail of. There are mines owned now in the interior of Pennsylvania, it is stated, by men who worked them years ago, and there are banks whose Presidents tormerly were coal miners.

A Prize for Gentility.—The greatest satire upon the manners of the North has been inflicted by Mr. Leonard W. Jerome, a wealthy broker and fast man of New York. He has given $5,000 to Princeton College, the interest of which is to be annually appropriated for the purchase of a medal. This medal is to be bestowed as a prize upon the "first gentleman" of the College. in a letter to the President he observes: "We have commercial ability enough, science enough—but we are deficient in manners."

There was once a contest at Oxford University to decide upon the relative weakness of two candidates for the Senior Wranglership. Mr. Jerome has taken this case for his model. He surely did not model his ambition upon his own pretensions, for we read in some Northern journal that he recently invited several lady friends to a breakfast, having previously deposited under each plate a thousand dollar bill.

A Wicked Darky.—A humane lady in the west of Ohio, during the rush of contrabands thither took pity on a poor ragged boy of a decidedly dark complexion, and gave him a home in her family. After being decently clothed Jack was as happy as a rebel in the Union prison, and soon was as fat as a prize pig. The good woman was pleased with her success, and all went on swingly until one day she heard him use the Lord's name in anythings but a reverent manner. Calling Jack to her she proceeded to lecture him upon the enormity of the deed, telling him he would certainly go to Tophet unless he stopped swearing.

"What kind ob a place am dat."

"It is a lake of fire and brimstone."

"Fiar and brimstone, missus?"

"Yes and you will be put into it and burned forever and 'ever'"

"But poor Jack burn all up missus."

"No, you wont; you'll keep burning and never be comsumed."

"But I nebber could stand it."

"You will have to stand it." replied the woman, somewhat at a loss for words to make him understand her meaning.

"Well," replied the juvenile contraband, "if I can stand it I don't care a straw!" and immediately began to whistle "Down in Dixie."

A gentleman in the spring-time of life, when walking with a lady, stumbled and fell. On his resuming his perpendicular, the lady remarked, "She was sorry for his unfortunate faux pas."

"I didn't hurt my fore paws," said he, "I only barked my knee."

Col. Tew.—The rumor that Colonel Tew is alive, and is a prisoner for life under an assumed name at Dry Tortugas, to our mind is so unlikely, we intentionally failed to notice it, heretofore. It has, however, assumed sufficient importance, to induce an official inquiry into the case.

Special Notices.

We have but little confidence in the trumpet tongued statements of the proprietors of advertised medicines generally, but we are forced to concur in the opinion, uniformly expressed by all who have used Perry Davis' Pain Killer, that it is a very valuable article, and one that it would be well for every household to have at hand, in case of colds, burns, diarrhœa, fever and ague, and other diseases, external, which it is adapted to alleviate. No article of medicine ever attained such unbounded popularity and extension. It has penetrated to every part, even the most remote of the known world, bearing with it its healing powers more potent than those of the species of "Aloe" ... We are informed by our principal druggists, they sell more of this article for exportation than any or all others, and that the demand is constantly increasing.—Salem Observer.

Invigorate the Responsible Organ.

The stomach is the responsible organ of the system. If the digestion is imperfect, every member, every gland, every muscle, every nerve and fibre is more or less out of order. All the fluids are depraved. The brain is clouded. The spirits are depressed. All dyspeptics know this to be the truth. It is not, however, half the truth. Columns would be required to enumerate the pains and penalties of dyspepsia, nor could any pen do them justice. Tens of thousands feel them; no man can describe them. Can they be prevented? Can they be relieved? Can they be banished at once and forever? Unquestionably they can. No dyspeptic has ever taken HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS in vain. Believe no one who says the complaint is incurable. This great vegetable stomachic will eradicate it—is eradicating it in thousands of cases over which medical practitioners have shaken their heads ominously, saying, "Nothing can be done."

The faculty has its fallacies. One of them is that indigestion is the most difficult of all the ordinary ailments of mankind to combat and subdue. This is a mistake. Nothing can be easier than to conquer it, if the true specific be administered. The vegetable combination which has become famous throughout the civilized world as HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is an antidote to the disease which has never been known to fail, and fortunately it is everywhere procurable. If you wish to fool with dyspepsia, try the pharmacopœia prescriptions. If you want to root it out and prevents its recurrence, take the Bitters daily. There is no discount on the testimony in its favor. If there is a man or woman who ever tried it for Indigestion without being benefited, the fact has not transpired. Universal, uncontradicted praise avouches its wonderful tonic virtues.

RATHER UNPLEASANT FOR A HUSBAND.—Some time since a widow, with two or three children, was married to a citizen in the neighborhood of Howard's Grove Hospital. After spending some time in that locality they removed to Oregon Hill. The husband returned home a few nights since from his work and was surprised to find "another man" in his house, chatting easily and familiarly with his wife. But greater was his surprise when his wife introduced the stranger as her husband—husband No. 1. Husband No. 2 asked for an explanation, and was told that the woman he had married as a widow was a wife, and that husband No. 1 had just returned from Pittsburg, Pa., to which place he had gone several years since.

No. 1 then informed No 2 that the best course for him to pursue, under the unpleasant circumstances, was to leave, and that he had better do so at once. No. 2 left, and went to a friend for advice. He was told that there was two plans open to him: one was to to go back to the house and "clean" No. 1 out and retain possession. But No. 2 said No. 1 might be able to play at that game, and he might come out second best; the other plan was to give the matter up quietly and let No. 1 retain possession of wife and premises. He said he would consent to this if he could prove the children No. 1's children. This arrangement was not satisfactory to No 1 or the wife, and the matter now stands, No. 2 ousted and No. 1 in possession of the premises.

Examiner.

MASONIC.—The Washington correspondent of the New Orleans Times says:

The "Scotch Rite" of Freemasonry in this District, which belongs to the Southern Jurisdiction of that order, was suspended during the war, as no communication could be held with Gen. Albert [illegible] Sovereign Inspector General. But the consistory has resumed its labors, and a Lodge of Perfection will at once be organized.

THE CAPTURE OF MR. DAVIS—Secretary Stanton has transmitted to the United States Senate a copy of the report of Major-General Wilson, of the capture of Jefferson Davis. It includes the reports of the subordinate officers sent out to prevent the escape of Mr. Davis across the Mississippi River, including that of Lieutenant-Colonel Pritchard, of the Fourth Michigan Cavalry, who made the capture. Not one word is said in these official reports of Mr. Davis having been taken in any costume but his own. Had it been otherwise, it would certainly have been stated.

IT'S DARK.—The following beautiful sentiments are from Meister Karl's Sketch Book, entitled the "Night of Heaven." It is full of touching tenderness:

"It is dark when the honest and honorable men sees the results of years swept cruelly away by the knavish, heartless adversary. It is dark when he feels the clouds of sorrow gather around and knows that the hopes and happiness in others are fading with his own. But in that hour the memory of of past integrity will be a true consolation, and assure him even here on earth of gleams of light in Heaven. It is dark when the dear voice of that sweet child once fondly loved, is no more heard around in murmurs. Dark when the light pattering feet no more resounds without the threshold, or ascend step by step up-stairs. Dark when some well known air recalls the strain once oft attuned by childish voice now hushed in death! Darkness; but only the gloom which now heralds the day-spring of immortality, and the infinite light of Heaven.

A COSTLY CANE.—At a Catholic fair in Memphis, Tenn., a cane was offered for the most popular county official. It was voted to Sheriff Winters. The votes cost one dollar each, and 40,836 votes were cast. The cane originally cost $35.

VIOLENT LOVE.—In Kentucky, recently, a young Cuban, being crossed by the father in his passion for a young lady, declared that she should not be taken from him, and stabbed her, afterwards killing himself, in spite of her attempts, wounded as she was to hinder him. He cut his throat, and died immediately. His victim lingered forty hours in agony and then expired.

CHARLOTTE, N. C.

THURSDAY, FEB. 7, 1867.

The Compromise Plan.

We copy from the Sentinel, of Tuesday, the compromise plan of adjustment, devised by our commissioners while in Washington.

We have no opinion on the merits of the plan proposed. That one of its features is very objectionable all will admit, but we said we had formed no opinion on its merits. That mission was beyond our comprehension, any way. We could not see the use in it, but now can "account for the milk in the cocoanut." Were we the richest people on the globe more useless means of spending our surplus cash could not be devised.

North Carolina Legislature.

Mr. Cunningham, from the committee on Propositions and Grievances, to whom was referred a memorial relative to immigration, reported that they had maturely considered the subject and that it was one of importance but that if private capital could not accomplish the purpose contemplated, they believe the financial condition of the State will not justify any expenditure of public funds to secure it. They, therefore, adhere to a former report on the same subject, and ask to be discharged from its further consideration.

While this important subject has been summmarily dismissed upon the ground of the want of money, our Solons are spending about twelve hundred dollars per day in useless discussion and useless legislation. If no money can be spared to aid in inducing immigration, the most fruitful means of enhancing the value of our lands and the productions of the laborer's toil, where does it come from to support a State Geologist, an Adjutant General and other little officers, which are more ornamental than either useful or necessary. We trust the beggarly poverty of the Treasury of our over-taxed State will be remembered when the vote is taken on the bill to establish a Penitentiary; which if adopted and carried out, will cost the State three or four hundred thousand dollars, besides the resultant expense of several millions, which will be required of the various Counties to support the families of the convicts during their incarceration. We are for retrenchment and reform, and opposed to any scheme just now which will increase the amount of our taxes. We are over-burdened. The last straw is on the camel's back that it can bear. This Penitentiary scheme will add enough to break it. The immigration plan need not be expensive, but if found so in maturing the details "let it slide," but do not let our members be saving at "the spile while they are wasting at the bung."

We are glad they are beginning to realize the people's condition, and trust all the schemes—the Penitentiary among them—that tend further to increase the expenses of the State, will be postponed, if not totally abandoned. In that remote future which, like distance throws its azure hue over the hopes and aspirations of all, when the State has recovered from the effects of the most terrible devastation the world has ever witnessed, or the pen of the annalist recorded, we may be able to carry out all the plans her statesmen may project for her embellishment and improvement. We now want legislation that will quiet the country—restore confidence, and assist, as far as possible, to call out the energies of the people in the development of her vast and exhaustless resources. Nothing now to crush and press her down, but what will rather lighten the burden already too heavy to bear. In this way, the Legislature may do something for the people, and make a name for themselves. We humbly submit that suspending the Courts, building Penitentiaries, sending commissions to Washington, &c., is not just what is needed at this critical juncture.

Restless Symptoms.

Throughout the entire South, says the Richmond Times, both with whites and blacks, there are wide-spread and unmistakable evidences of discontent. The feeling to which we allude is not so much in reference to political questions, though these may have stimulated and kept it alive; the South feels no interest in, or excitement about, politics. But the discontent to which we have adverted, arises out of the changes in the social and domestic relations of our people, consequent upon the volcanic upheavals of the war, and the subsequent continuance of revolutionary disturbances. Plunged suddenly into poverty, and compelled to grapple unexpectedly with hardship; unable to command labor for agricultural purposes, or capital for commercial enterprises, it is not strange that the whites are restless and actuated by a desire to leave the scenes of blighted prosperity and happiness, to seek success and fortune on fields that shall not perpetually remind them of the calamities of the past.

It is nothing new for poverty, distress and misfortune to enforce a change of locality, as a cure for bruised hearts and broken hopes; and the desire of multitudes of the Southern people to emigrate to some other section, indicates a belief that some change would be an improvement, no matter to what quarter the wanderer may direct his steps. As we have intimated, this feeling is not confined to the whites. The blacks participate in it to an equal if not a greater extent. They are moving towards Texas, towards the Mississippi Valley, Florida, and even towards the bleak and inhospitable North. In their case, the discontent and the desire for change has been so marked, and so pregnant with future ruin, that even their great prophet, General Howard, has been attempting to dissuade them from leaving, by speeches delivered at various points, characterized by no very great ability.

The exodus of the blacks furnishes no sufficient reason for the whites to follow their example; but, on the contrary, supplies the latter with many very sound arguments for remaining where they are. How can we expect to do better elsewhere than here, particularly after the departure of the negroes shall have invited an influx of white immigrants? That man is little less than a simpleton who becomes a "rolling stone" at this juncture.

From the Raleigh Sentinel.

The Plan of Adjustment.

We intimated on yesterday, that, in a day or two, the plan, which rumor had for several days affirmed was being concocted in Washington, would no doubt be given to the public.

We have been furnished with a manuscript copy of the proposed plan of settlement, by Hon. Lewis Hanes, of Salisbury, who as party in the conference, on his own responsibility, furnishes it for publication thus early, believing that no scheme involving such important consequences, should be kept from an interested public.

We have gathered from various sources, a partial history of this scheme. Gov. Orr, of S. C., Ex-Gov. Parsons, of Alabama, Ex-Gov. Marvin, of Florida, Hon. N. Boyden and Hon. Lewis Hanes, of North Carolina, Judge [illegible] T. Jones, of Arkansas, being in Washington City on other business, after frequent conversations with members of Congress and others, both Democrats and Republicans, conservative and radical, felt that the exigencies of the country, demanded the earnest efforts of every true friend of the South and of the Union. They accordingly determined upon a conference, each acting upon his own personal responsibility, and disclaiming all right to act in a representative capacity. Several conferences were held, and the following programme was agreed upon as the only one they could devise promising to effect the desired end:

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES

Article 14.—Section 1. The Union under the Constitution is, and shall be perpetual. No State shall pass any law or ordinance to secede or withdraw from the Union, and any such law or ordinance shall be null and void

Section 2. The public debt of the United States, authorized by law, shall ever be held sacred and inviolate. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the Government or authority of the United States.

Section 3. All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the States in which they reside No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shal any State deprive any person of life, liberty or property, without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

Section 4. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State, excluding Indians not taxed. But when any State shall, on account of race or color, or previous condition of servitude, exclude from voting at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice President of the United State, representatives in Congress, members of the Legislature or other officers elective by the people, any of the male inhabitants of such State, being twenty-one years of age and citizens of the United States, then the entire class of persons so excluded from the elective franchise, shall not be counted in the basis of representation. No State shall require as a property qualification for voters more than two hundred and fifty dollars worth of taxable property, nor as an educational qualification, more education than enough to enable the voter to read the Constitution of the United States in the English Language and write legibly his own name.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO STATE CONSTITUTION

Article. Every male citizen who has resided in this State for one year and in the county in which he offers to vote six months, immediately preceding the day of election, and who can read the Constitution of the United States in the English language and can write his name, or who may be the owner of two hundred and fifty dollars worth of taxable property, shall be entitled to vote at all elections for Governor of the State, members of the Legislature and all other officers elective by the people of the State: Provided, that no person by reason of this article, shall be excluded from voting, who has heretofore exercised the elective franchise under the Constitution and laws of this State, or who, at the time of the adoption of this amendment may be entitled to vote under said Constitution and laws.

They were strongly impressed with the idea, that in the unfortunate conflict which had arisen between President Johnson and the majority in Congress, that neither party could be expected to propose terms of compromise or recede from their positions; and likewise, that the relations of the parties North, forbade a hope of compromise; and that, therefore, the position of the South, between the conflicting interests, was becoming more and more serious and complicated every day. With these convictions, they determined to assume the responsibility of devising a plan, which, although drawn up in the spirit of compromise, might, without any surrender of honor, be adopted by Southern Legislatures as a proposition to Congress.

This plan, we learn, has been submitted to members of Congress, members of the Cabinet and prominent men from the several Northern States. Conservative men of all parties spoke favorably of it, and we are assured that many of the best friends of the South at Washington, urge the propriety of its early approval by the Legislature and our people.

We are not prepared to express an opinion upon so grave a proposition, without due consideration, and we have not had time to weigh it, in all its bearings. It is a matter however, of great magnitude, and should be calmly and seriously pondered. If such a programme were tendered to us by the North as a finality,—and end of further collision between the two sections, objectionable as the verbiage and the principles involved, in some few instances in the scheme, may be to us, such is our anxiety to end the clamor, and so strong is our devotion to a constitutional Union, we should accept it. Nevertheless, we feel, though the proposition comes from an un-official source and accompanied by no such official assurances of favor in the North as inspires confidence of its acceptance, the scheme should not hastily be disposed of, and especially should not be hastily condemned. With the fellings, purposes and anxieties of the parties proposing this scheme, we entirely sympathise, because we are sure they are honest men and true friends of the South, however much we may have differed with them on some points during the unfortunate contest.

TELEGRAPHIC.

CONGRESSIONAL.

The bill paying war claims, which was amended so as to exclude the Southern States claims, passed.

The Secretary of the Treasury, was called on for information regarding cotton seized during the rebellion, the disposition of the proceeds, with the names of the parties interested.

The bankrupt bill was resumed. The amendment that persons unable to take the test oath be excluded from its benefits was lost, by yeas 10, nays 30, and the bill itself was defeated by 20 yeas to 22 nays. Adjourned.

A variety of private and army bills passed, and the House went into Committee on the Whole on the President's message. Adjourned.

GENERAL NEWS.

RICHMOND, Feb. 4.—The Examiner publishes a new plan of restoration, in an authoritative shape. The constitutional amendment is to be adopted; the laws withdrawing from the Union to be declared null; the United States debt to be forever repudiated; persons born in the United States to be citizens thereof and of the States in which they reside; representatives to be proportioned to the whole number of people, excluding untaxed Indians; no other suffrage qualification than $250 taxable property and ability to read the Constitution in English and write his name. [The amendment to the Constitution to be in accordance with the above, except that none shall be excluded from the franchise who have heretofore exercised it by the proposed restrictions. The Democratic members have not been formally consulted on the new plan; neither has it transpired that the Republicans have made pledges binding them in case the South adopts it.

It is prominently mentioned, in connection with the new plan, that Governor's Orr, of South Carolina, Sharkey, of Mississippi, Parsons, of Alabama, and Marvin, of Florida approve of it. It is also stated that the President endorses the scheme.

The ice on the Potomac broke to-day, and three spans of the long bridge are gone, and there are apprehensions for the safety of the Harper's Ferry bridge.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Gov. Sharkey is in bad health, and will leave as soon as he is able. Gov. Parsons leaves to-morrow. The features of the new project, as published North and South, are garbled and unreliable. Gentlemen prominent in the project regret the publication. The true text of the scheme will be presented to the North Carolina Legislature in a few days, and will be given to the public by that body. The scheme originated with Southern men, without formal consultation with either political party. It is claimed by its friends that it will meet the demands of the great conservative element of the country and drive extremists into reasonable terms.

An Invaluable Discovery,

BY WHICH

Water can be Turned into Mo[illegible]

Truly has it been said, 'That the riches [illegible] this world, lie buried in the bowels of [illegible] earth." The precious metals that are [illegible] taken from thence, readily procure all [illegible] luxuries and comforts—save, the great boon to the sick [illegible] without which, life is a burden, and [illegible]ions of the Roth childs' would [illegible]re.

To females [illegible]rom Leucorrhœa, (or Whites, as it is commonly called,) I, as Physician of many years experience, would say, that you need not longer endure a miserable life of pains, aches and general debility, or weakness, the consequence of this deplorable disease.

All Physicians, of modern teaching, will admit the great difficulties in arresting the destroyer of health, for various reasons unnecessary to mention. Patients suffering therefrom will as readily agree, that medicines, however carefully prepared and used fail, in most instances, to afford relief; and in many, from long continuance, produce debility, thereby increasing the malady they were expected to relieve.

Deeming it a great privilege to be a public benefactor, and add to the comforts of the afflicted, by placing before them means of relief, I here give the history of a few cases of great interest that have fallen under my professional care.

Mrs. [illegible] a lady of the highest standing in the city of Charlotte, N. C., had been an incessant sufferer from Leucorrhœa for three years. Her cheeks were blanched, her [illegible] and almost transparent—not to have a red corpuscle in them. So weak was she, that it was with difficulty she could ascend a flight of stairs, without feeling faint and exhausted. Pain on the heart, head-ache and [illegible]ss in the head, besides excruciating pains in the back, together with a bearing-down sensation in the region of the womb, were constant and alarming. Notwithstanding they were but symptoms of extreme debility, induced or kept up by the never ceasing drain from her system. In this condition, every means at my command was used for her relief. Remedy after remedy was tried. Every means recommended by our modern authors proved worthless in her case. Hearing of the case of a servant whom I had formerly treated, (belonging to Mr. Cross,) having been very much benefited by this mineral water, I resolved, (without further inquiry,) as the last resort, to recommend to her its use. Anxious to be restored once more to health, she readily acceded to my proposition, and visited the well daily. Soon improvement was visible, and in the short space of three months her health was entirely restored. A living monument to the great curative virtues of this water.

The next case of great interest is that of the servant woman already spoken of. Several years previous to the discovery of this well, Mr. Cross engaged my services in the case of this woman. I made most careful examination and searched out all of the particulars of her history. She had suffered for 18 years with Leucorrhœa, and being sorely afflicted therefrom, it was universally known in our community, that she was the martyr of the town. I found her with all of the distressing symptoms attending this malady, and could only afford her temporary relief. Time passed on, and still her afflictions did not abate. She abandoned all hope of recovery, and resolved to take no medicines, but to resign herself to the fate which seemed to await her. Her master just then having discovered this well, advised that she should drink freely of the water, as it might be of some benefit to her. Like a drowning man catching at the straw, she tried it, and improvement was soon perceptible. Perseverance was crowned with success, and to-day she is a strong and healthy woman, as can be seen at the residence of her former master, and will take great pleasure in relating, in detail, to any visitors, the history of her case.

Many other cases known to us, of equal interest, have been cured, and others are being daily benefitted.

It is to be regretted that the pecuniary embarrassments incident to the late war precludes the idea of Mr. Cross' fitting up this valuable property, as a resort for invalids. Under these circumstances, the owner (Mr. George Cross, of Charlotte, N. C.) is willing to dispose of this property at the very reasonable price of $10,000 in U. S. currency, and will communicate with any one either by letter or personally.

The plantation of 100 acres of fine and productive land is situated within one and a half miles of the city of Charlotte, N. C., immediately on the Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford Railrodd. A fine residence with modern improvements and conveniences, together with all necessary buildings attached, have just been completed, and to capitalists seeking investments no finer inducements could be offered.

Little in yesterday markets, and no change in position on the part of holders to sell. It was a balmy, beautiful day, and the streets presented quite an active and crowded appearance. This is emphatically our busy season, too late for winter, and too early for spring goods. Our merchants are well pleased with their fall and wiuter sales, and soon will be prepared to go North and East for seasonable supplies. In the meantime they are offering their old stocks low down to make room for the new. To our up country readers we say now is a good time to visit our growing city.

Beef!

Mr. W. A. Cook will have this morning, in front of his stand under Sinclair's store, two of the finest beeves, brought to the market this season. They were raised and prepared for market by Mr. T. Mr. James R. Dey.

SIR: In reply to your inquiry of the results of our experience in the use of your improved Poudrette, purchased of you for this year's Cotton Crop, we would beg leave to say that the present season has been one quite unfavorable to the action of all fertilizers. Several kinds of Manures were used by us with the exception of your Poudrette, with little or no effect to the crop. Where the Poudrette was applied it gave us near half a bale more per acre, and caused the Cotton to open much earlier, and we would therefore recommend the same as a concentrated manure for the growth of Cotton, as well as improvement to the soil.

Yours very respectfully,
Nov. 13th, 1866. HENRY P. STULTS & BRO.

DYSPEPSIA.

READER, have you been disgusted with Nostrums? Have you (as I have) been drugged with trash and poison thirty years—run the catalogue of Patent Remedies—been swindled out of hundreds, and cursed them all as I have done, most heartily?

If you are a Dyspeptic, I doubt not you have, and let me say to you, that as I believe am responsible to God for what I say, that will cure NEARLY EVERY CASE. If you desire testimony, I can give the most uncontrovertable from every grade, position, calling and order that constitute the society of the country; and if you still doubt, take a teaspoonful of this Mixture in a tablespoonful of generous spirits after meals, and you will be convinced of the truth of what I say.

This is one of the most elegant tonics, and best promoters of digestion known. There is no medicine more purely scientific, and having tested its virtue in cases where none but a fool could doubt, I am conscientous in offering it to the afflicted. I shall publish no more certificates, as I challenge the world for the truth of what I say. This medicine is its own advertisement.

I shall make agencies in only the larger towns and cities, and those desiring this remedy can purchase from them or myself. I will make a liberal discount to the trade from the retail price, which is $2,00 per 8 oz. bottle, handsomely cased—a beautiful article of commerce, one hourly called for where known, and cheerfully paid for. Any Druggist can learn of its ready sale by addressing a letter to Dr. McADEN, my Agent at Charlotte, N. C.
